Urge Top Officials Negotiate On Strike

Mayor, U. S. Mediator Demand Action to End Starch Plant Walkout

BULLETIN

The meeting of the union and starch company negotiators broke up shortly after noon today with no progress toward settlement of the nearly 21-month-old walkout of more than 400 employees. No further meetings are scheduled until Friday.

A series of fast-moving developments marked the 71-day-old strike at the Union Starch & Refining Co. today as negotiators for both sides met again in an effort to settle three deadlocked contract issues.

As today's session convened at 10:30 a.m. at the Granite City Army depot, U. S. Conciliator Bernard O'Keefe of St. Louis and Granite City Mayor Donald Parney announced they have asked both the company and the union to assign higher ranking officials to their negotiating staffs for future meetings.

The company, according to Mayor Parney, who made telephone calls, declined to send any of its top officials from its Columbus, Ind., plant, but agreed to add B. J. Hunter, vice-president at the Granite City plant, to its present staff attending negotiation sessions.

The mayor said that Al Gropstein, International president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, with which starch plant workers are affiliated, has assigned a district director from Chicago to join other union negotiators.

O'Keefe said a meeting to be attended by the newly-assigned negotiators is being arranged for Friday.

Steps to call upon the company and union for top-ranking officials to participate in the negotiations were taken Thursday afternoon in a meeting between O'Keefe and Mayor Parney following the breakdown of a four-hour negotiating session in which O'Keefe said there was no progress of any kind and that neither the union nor the company appears inclined to concede a single point.

Mediator Discussed
O'Keefe, who told the Press-Record that he was "thoroughly disgusted" with the reluctance of either the union or the company to "give a little" in the negotiation deadlock, met with Mayor Parney immediately after the breakdown of Thursday's meeting in the Army depot.

He said the session lasted nearly four hours and "there wasn't one bit of progress toward a settlement."

O'Keefe said the Union Starch negotiators have represented one of the toughest jobs of his long career with the U. S. Mediation Service, principally because the dispute involves only three issues.

"This situation in Granite City is critical," O'Keefe said. "There is a chance that someone can be killed or seriously injured."

O'Keefe said that it was his opinion that "both sides want to see this strike settled, yet neither side is willing to relinquish a single point."

"The only way we can make any headway is to call in top officials from the company and the union."

16th Meeting
He said that Thursday's meeting was the 16th in which he has participated since negotiations were reopened, and the 10th since the strike began July 4.

Press-Record Wears New "Dress" Today

How do you like our new "dress" today?

The Press-Record is being printed for the first time—in new type designed for maximum legibility and ease of reading. The new "body" type is a point Imperial, set on a 9/16 point slug. It replaces a 12-point Regal, set on a 9/16 point slug.

To average reader, one news type may look pretty much like another. But there are important optical differences, and in this case, one of these is at least 121% increased readability, with an additional plus from improved type styling.

The Press-Record's new type was selected on the basis of a series of laboratory tests, utilizing an ophthalmograph and movie camera, which disclosed an average of only six eye "fixations" per line of Imperial type. This was substantially below other types tested.

Since each eye "fixation" lasts approximately 1/25 of a second, Prof. Roudou Laffitte, who made the tests, said "obviously the type face which requires the least number of eye fixations must be considered the most readable."

In conjunction with today's new type "dress," the Press-Record is discarding its 4-point column rules that separate the columns of type in favor of six points of white space. We believe this will not only further enhance readability but also make the newspaper page more attractive.

The "new look" joins other 1965 Press-Record improvements that include a new intertype typesetting machine, a new Journalist electronic machine that produces both halftone and line engravings, plus enlargements, from pictures and art work, and two proof presses, one all-electric and large enough to take full-page proofs.

These changes are part of the Press-Record's continuing policy of providing its readers and advertisers with the best newspaper possible. It is a policy that includes modern machinery and equipment can produce.

Hearing on Picket Retailers Select Injunction to be Resumed Friday

Two long days of trial, including a night session lasting until 9 o'clock Friday, failed to complete company evidence by Friday.

The trial at Edwardsville is scheduled to be resumed on Friday when the company will continue to submit evidence, but both sides have been alerted for a 24-hour call should Associate Circuit Judge Howard Lee White of Jerseyville become available before Friday.

Union Seeks Injunction
Judge White has been assigned to hear cases in Sangamon county today and possibly Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday, he is to be back in Edwardsville to hear a petition prepared by local 7-963 seeking an injunction against the Starch & Refining Co. The judge has indicated that he personally will "hear the case."

He explained that after he had conferred with state highway officials at Springfield, "Since the acquisition of the property has just been completed, and since the programming of the project scheduled before this particular one on Nameoki road must be completed first, the Nameoki road project probably will not be under way in time for the widening during this last quarter of 1964."

"If it were to be started during this last quarter, it probably would not be completed in time for the actual paving to be done and hence would be torn up throughout the winter," Maher informed Rep. Harris.

The local state representative told the Press-Record, "It's still worth a try."

Nameoki Rd. Funds Still Sought This Year

Rep. Harris Learns Gov. Kerner is Busy, Will be Persistent

Although Gov. Kerner's office hours are booked solidly for several weeks, State Rep. Lloyd Curly Harris (D), Granite City, said he is not giving up and will arrange a meeting as soon as possible for Mayor Parney and other city officials wanting state funds for the Nameoki road widening project to be started this year.

"We need these added traffic lanes to eliminate a bottleneck that involves a high percentage of Quad-Cityans in their daily lives, and even though the state is trying to give relief with the emergency shoulder improvement project started last week, the permanent project can't be started too soon," Harris said.

Mayor Parney was advised about two weeks ago that although the city had done its part in giving the state a free hand for right-of-way acquisition with the promise of a call for bids in September that now the state highway department has no funds earmarked for the project.

He immediately turned to Rep. Harris for assistance, and Harris put through a call to the governor.

Assured for 1966
Maher assured Rep. Harris the project would be started in the first quarter of 1966.

He explained that after he had conferred with state highway officials at Springfield, "Since the acquisition of the property has just been completed, and since the programming of the project scheduled before this particular one on Nameoki road must be completed first, the Nameoki road project probably will not be under way in time for the widening during this last quarter of 1964."

A SMALL BURGLAR chopped this hole in the wall of a closet at the Madison senior high school some time Sunday to gain entrance to a vault in the office of Principal Francis Dant, who inspects the damage here. Before cutting the 14x18-inch hole, the intruder knocked the combination of the safe and school authorities were unable to open it this morning. Other school departments were ransacked and damaged. Only a pair of binoculars was taken from the vault.

Two Men Searching for Fun Robbed of $60; One is Cut In Mishap at River

Two Belthato men who left a Madison tavern with a new-found friend who was going to show them some fun ended up minus about $60 cash and their watches which they were forced to hand over at knife-point early Sunday morning.

The pair told county authorities the evening also was taken from the Madison tavern where he was working. It was found later Sunday morning along the Chain of Rocks canal levee.

Gerald Napper, 21, who originally was driving the car, and his companion, Ralph Ferguson, also 21, said they met a young man at a Madison tavern and he offered to show them some fun. They left for a West Madison tavern where the stranger met a friend and the four men left together, heading toward East St. Louis.

In the 1000 block of Bissell street, Ferguson was ordered to stop the car by the two strangers in the back seat who had pulled knives. As Napper was emptying his pockets, he was struck with a knife and cut the robber on the hand.

In return, the robber slashed Napper's neck and left arm. Ferguson also was forced to hand over his money and watch. Ferguson was ordered to drive to Bond road where he and Napper were forced from the car and the bandits drove away.

They walked about a block to a restaurant and called the sheriff's office. Deputies took Napper to Wood River Township Hospital for emergency treatment.

Thieves Chased
Charles Uptake of Uptake's service station, Nameoki road and Venice avenue, reported Thursday that he chased a car containing three men who pulled out his station and took six batteries while he was working in the car wash.

The trio drove away in a black 1958 auto with a Missouri license plate. The batteries were thrown from the car at Nameoki and Ponton roads, and the thieves proceeded east on Ponton to a cigar machine and two soda machines were pried open and the telephone, oil and a clock were stolen in a burglary at the Madison Derby service station on Route 203 south of Madison, it was reported to the county sheriff's office Friday morning by Gene Whittington, manager. The amount of money taken from the car was not stated.

Burglars Enter MHS and 2 Churches

School Departments Damaged, Food Taken; Church Box is Looted

Burglars broke into the Madison senior high school Sunday and smashed the glass out of a number of doors to gain entrance to the metal shop, wood shop, cafeteria, office safe and office which they ransacked and damaged. Break-ins at two churches, St. Elizabeth's in Granite City, and the Ponton Beach Baptist Church in the county, also occurred Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

No estimate of damage or loss was available from high school officials this morning, pending an inventory to determine what items may have been taken. With the exception of the undetermined amount of change taken from a soda machine in the cafeteria, no money was obtained. The office safe was entered by knocking a hole through a wall. A pair of binoculars was stolen from the walk-in safe.

Madison police, who were called about 7 p.m. Sunday, said the burglar first attempted to enter the building by prying open a door on the south side of the building, but had to break out the glass to get the door open. The officer who apparently went first to the metal shop, where he broke the glass in the door to gain entrance.

Break in a metal work display case was broken and the case ransacked. Officials said it has not been determined what may have been taken from the case. The intruders then broke the glass in a door to enter the wood shop where they pried open the door to a storage room, from which they took a quantity of tools, police reported.

Cafeteria Ransacked
A door leading to the cafeteria was pried open. In the cafeteria, the burglars pried open a soda machine and a candy machine, taking the money from one but leaving it in the other. They attempted to pry open two other machines but were unsuccessful.

Food items such as butter, lard and ice cream were removed from freezers and left in the room. The freezers also were left open. About 30 milk cartons were strewn about the room and milk splashed on the windows. The burglars drank most of the milk before throwing the cartons around the room, police said. An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the

Anti-Strikebreakers
Law Signed by Mayor

Mayor Donald Partington announced over the weekend that he had signed the recently passed anti-strikebreakers law which prohibits Granite City employers from hiring "strikebreakers" for jobs of union men on strike.

Three women, carrying banners urging the mayor to sign the bill, picketed the city hall Saturday, apparently unaware that the ordinance had been signed into law.

The mayor said: "In signing ordinance No. 2273, I took into consideration the welfare of the business and labor communities, as well as the welfare of the community at large. I was, of course, not unmindful of the fact that the majority of the employers, representing the opinions of the people of their wards, voted for the ordinance."

"While I must not have authorized such an ordinance myself, I must be persuaded by a majority opinion where I can see no great harm in the ordinance. It is true that I have doubts as to the validity of the ordinance if it ever goes to the Illinois Supreme Court, but I was informed that no authority could be found striking it down in the ordinance. Similar ordinances have been passed in six other cities in the State of Illinois."

A 1964 blue auto belonging to John D. Boyer, 2807 Louis street, was stolen from that address, it was reported to police at 3:30 a.m. today.

A woman's black wallet containing about $44 and Granite City Army Depot identification cards was stolen from an auto parked at 944 Niedringhaus avenue, it was reported at 1:15 a.m. Friday by Robert Copeland, 3805 Kirkpatrick Homes. The wallet had been in a diaper bag.

Another two-year-old, Elizabeth Hodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hodge, 1532 Clark avenue, underwent treatment after eating an undetermined number of pills.

Emergency care wasn't all for youngsters—Virgil Hughes, 41 North Circle drive, suffered abrasions to his right arm when struck by fragments of a soda bottle that exploded; and Robert Little, 39, of Rural Route One, suffered a laceration on his right hand in a lawn mower.

Lloyd Goodman, 34, of 2544 Missouri avenue, suffered an injury to his left eye when struck by a nail.

In other emergency cases, Mrs. James Smith, 2205 Dennis Cardinal court, suffered a fracture to her left forearm in a fall off a bicycle; Mark Glick, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Glick, 3149 Davis avenue, who fell suffering a cut to his chin and a broken tooth, and David Rill, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rill, 3213 Erin drive, who suffered a knife and suffered a cut to the top of his right foot.

7 Hurt in Area Traffic Mishaps

Seven persons were hurt in six of 10 traffic accidents reported in and near the Quad-Cities over the weekend.

A girl unable to judge distance when not wearing her glasses was injured Saturday afternoon when she ran into the side of an auto on Namecki road at Pershing avenue.

Linda Kay VanGilder, 11, of 4509 Kirkpatrick Homes, was given treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital for abrasions and contusions to her right elbow and left leg. Her mother, Roxie, said the girl was not wearing her glasses at the time of the mishap.

The girl was running west across Namecki road and ran into the left side of the southbound auto of Henry Clemons, 4440 W. 7th Washington avenue, who said he was able to reach the girl and catch her before she fell under his auto.

Crash on Madison Ave.
Mac Sykes, 69, of 2013 Dewey avenue, who was injured in a two-car collision Saturday evening on Madison avenue at 23rd street, was charged with disobeying a traffic signal. Police said Sykes was going south on Madison avenue and collided with an eastbound auto driven by John Danco, 3200 Carlson avenue.

An auto passenger was injured Saturday night in a two-car collision at 20th and State streets. She was Gina Ties, 15, of Troy, who suffered cuts to her nose and face when a car driven east by Burt Fields, 16, of 2133 Miracle avenue, was involved in a collision with a northbound auto driven by John Paces, 43, of 1231 Madison and State streets.

County Could Own, Operate Airport, Bartylak Advises

State's Atty. Joseph Bartylak advised that the Madison county board of supervisors has the authority to develop and operate a county airport.

At a meeting of the board's new airport subcommittee last week, he informed the members also that they were legally constituted when appointed, without pay, by Harold Landolt, board chairman.

Questions had been raised on the powers of a county in dealing with airports. A few members of the county board are objecting to proposals to develop a major county airport on a 300-acre tract near Mitchell.

Currently, C. Tom Foster, president of Foster Aviation Ltd. of St. Louis, is planning a small airport for light craft to serve a proposed adjacent industrial park and area industries on 160 acres of land he owns at the site. The property recently was rezoned from agricultural to industrial with a special use permit for an airport.

At the meeting William Straube of Edwardsville, subcommittee chairman, repeated a financial proposal by Foster which "wouldn't cost the county a dime" and could become revenue producing for the county.

Straube stressed the need to seek information on the potential of a county-operated airport. He noted that the Federal Aviation Agency and the Illinois Aeronautics Department have offered financial and advisory assistance if a major airport is to be developed.

Other subcommittee members attending the meeting were Nelson Hagauer, Granite City township supervisor, and C. A. Nicolet, Godfrey township supervisor. The group is to make an informative report tomorrow morning at the county board meeting in Edwardsville.

Alton State Hospital Fire Station Ready

The new fire station at Alton State Hospital, begun early in October last year, has been completed and occupied. The $68,000 building is a one-story structure, contains five separate accommodations and is air-conditioned throughout.

Besides sheltering the $25,000 fire truck, it houses sleeping facilities, a lounge and kitchen area, a washroom and a room for cleaning and maintaining hoses. Fire chief Pete Kingles, in charge of the ten-man fire fighting force, said the new fire house will be equipped with a new fire alarm system that gives instantaneous warning from virtually all sectors of the grounds. This installation is just to be completed.

Miss Reinhardt With Peace Corps In Philippines

Sharon Lee Reinhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Reinhardt, 2805 Iowa street, has been named a Peace Corps volunteer, having completed 10 weeks of training at San Jose State College, San Jose, Calif., and left last week for the Philippines.

Her group of volunteers will both expand Peace Corps teaching efforts in the Philippines and replace volunteers who have completed their two years service. With their arrival, 550 Peace Corps teachers will be working in elementary, secondary and normal schools throughout the islands. As "co-teachers," the volunteers will work along side Filipino teachers, refining teaching methods and math, science and English curriculums. The co-teaching system enables the volunteer and his Filipino counterpart to make improvements by continually evaluating each other's work.

During training, the volunteers studied Filipino, the official dialect of the Philippines. They also were trained in new math, inductive science, and English teaching. They practiced their teaching in schools near the training site.

The departing volunteers join the 10,000 other Peace Corpsmen now working in 46 nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America. Despite these numbers, many more volunteers are needed. Persons interested in starting a two-year Peace Corps assignment this fall should complete and submit a Peace Corps application as soon as possible and take the Peace Corps Placement Test, which is given throughout the country the second Saturday of each month. All pertinent information can be obtained at post offices or by writing the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at three o'clock by Rev. Randal Mercer of Godfrey, Ill., a cousin of the bride, and another cousin, Robert D. Spengler, was soloist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Rucker Arnold of St. Louis. The songs were "At Dawning," "Wedding Prayer," "With This Ring" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of candelabra silk organza. The bodice had a deep oval neckline and an overlay of Chantilly lace trimmed the full puff sleeves. Additional lace bordered the A-line skirt and was repeated on the full removable court train. A veil of imported illusion cascaded from a high crown of pearls and crystals and the cascade bridal bouquet was made up of light pink cymbidium orchids, white carnations and trailing ivy.

The maid of honor was Miss Carol Dawn Spengler, cousin of the bride. Clinton Kinney was best man for his brother.

The honor attendant wore a floor-length medium green French silk organza dress over taffeta. The bodice had a scoop neck dipping low in the back, elbow-length sleeves and a controlled skirt. A matching headpiece of green rose leaves completed the costume and she carried a nosegay of white carnations tinted blue and ivy.

Miss Sylvia Spengler wore a dress of gray brocade with gold and blue design, gray accessories and a blue feather hat. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a green chiffon dress with a lace bodice and brown accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

A dinner was held at the Rose Bowl after the ceremony. The rehearsal dinner took place at the Cheshire Inn in St. Louis Friday evening.

Candlelight, Floral Setting For Phipps-Wood Nuptials

Candlelight and white flowers provided the setting at Nameoki Methodist Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Mary Beth Wood, a daughter of Mrs. Mary Frances Wood, 2406 Edison avenue, and Robert Lindsay Phipps, whose parents are Mrs. and Mr. Robert Gibson of Mattoon, Ill.

Burning candles in candelabra entwined with smilax lighted the sanctuary and the altar decorated with urns of white gladioli and pom poms for the 7:30 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Frank Pierce, pastor of the church.

The aisle through which the bride was escorted by her uncle, Roland Veach, was further illuminated with candles in tall stands adorned with greenery.

Mrs. Edna Hensley, organist, accompanied the vocalist, Richard Judd, as he sang "O Perfect Love" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride's empire gown of silk organza was designed with a scoop neckline and lavishly trimmed with imported Belgian lace and seed pearls. It featured a full sweep train which was detachable. A veil of silk illusion was held in place with a beaded lace cap embellished with pearls. Gardenias, snow crystal pom poms and candelabra foliage were combined in the bride's off-side cascade bouquet.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Ann Schroeder, and bridesmaids, Miss Paul Kadanoos and Miss Kathy Gitcho, were dressed alike. Their empire gowns of fern and moss green with full length sheath skirts had velvet bodices and chiffon skirts. They wore Dior bows of velvet in their hair and carried off-white spider mums and bronze daisy pom poms.

Gary Olson of Dallas, Tex., was best man for Mr. Phipps, and the corps of groomsmen and ushers included Larry Franks, Indianapolis, Ind.; Paul Rose, Mattoon; Peter Parrillo and Nelson Harrison, Chicago; Peter Hutchens, St. Louis; and David Gitcho, Granite City.

A reception was held at the church directly after the ceremony and the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon trip. They will live in Carbondale where Mr. Phipps received a BS degree in psychology last August and where he will begin work on his masters degree this fall. The former Miss Wood attended the Granite City high school and St. Louis. She has been employed by Southwest Bell Telephone Co., St. Louis. O'Keefe said the situation is "critical." The mayor expressed "grave concern" over the duration of the strike which has been marked by vandalism and violence.

Mitchell Nine Eliminated in Playoffs, 13-4

It will be Pocahontas at St. Clair Heating (Blue Division) and Collinsville at Maryville Red Sox (Red Division) next Sunday in playoff semifinals of the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League.

Second-place Mitchell A.C. only Quad-City team qualifying for the opening or quarterfinal round, lost to third-place Pocahontas 13-4 yesterday at the Mitchell diamond while the second-place Polish-American War Veterans were being shut out 17-0 by third-place Collinsville at East St. Louis.

Mitchell led 2-1 after three innings but an 11-run spurge by Pocahontas in the fourth frame decided the contest.

The host team had lost two of its pitchers mainstays, Bill Lierman and Terry Brown, who returned to college and high school, respectively. Joe Holder and Larry Corrie shared the mound duties yesterday.

Army Pvt. James H. Rehms Jr., whose parents live at 2525 East 24th street, has completed a seven-week combat engineer course at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

During the course Rehms received instruction in the construction and repair of roads, railroads and structures such as bridges. Rehms also received training in demolitions and mine warfare. The 18-year-old soldier entered the Army in April 1965 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood. He attended Venice high school.

Straube Defends Role in Airport

A defense of his position regarding a Madison county airport proposal was issued last week by William G. Straube, Edwardsville township assistant supervisor, chairman of the Zoning and Subdivision Control Committee of the Madison county board. He denied use of "evasive and unethical methods."

He recalled that the committee "unanimously" felt that an airport in the proposed area would be for the good of the county and that the decision on the Zoning Board of Appeals should be overridden by the county board, which was done at the Aug. 18 meeting. At that time, no hint was given that county purchase of the proposed airport would be sought.

Straube said it has been charged that "creation of an airport facility in this proposed location for the benefit of I have 'visions' of being on the airport authority."

"The facts are that I have no say in any airport project. However, I am interested in Madison county operating an airport facility in this proposed location for the benefit of the general public, industry and SIU, which I felt will encourage new industry to favorably consider Madison county as an ideal site for its future economic growth."

This is the first attempt to encourage a major industrial project for new industry in Madison county in the past several years," Straube asserted.

"I wish further to state that the county board itself under this proposal would be the airport authority as provided in Illinois Revised Statutes of 1963. The county board alone would have full authority to operate this airport facility. It is not a joint venture with any county board committee if necessary would be made by the chairman of the board."

Straube said development would be without cost to taxpayers. He said he hopes for a federal share of 50% from the Federal Aviation Agency, a state share of 30% from the State Department of Aeronautics and a county share of 20% to be advanced by C. Tom Foster, owner of the site.

"Mr. Foster has proposed to the subcommittee on aviation that he will furnish the county's share of these funds by way of a leaseback agreement," Straube said. "When expansion becomes necessary, a comparable agreement could be made with other property owners."

Archery Tournament Series Continue

The third in a series of tournaments for the Illinois aggregate championship was held yesterday at the Union Archery Club located north of Edwardsville off Highway 159.

Don Kiel of Mitchell, who placed second in the national tournament for two years, won the non-amateur, men's instinctive division title.

Miss Karen Doty of Granite City, a senior at Granite City high school, finished in second place in her division. She was 1964 champion. Miss Doty Hamilton of Chicago took the top spot.

Miss Doty won yesterday's round, which involved broadhead shooting (at animal-figure targets). Earlier rounds of target and field shooting had taken place previously in Joliet and Sycamore, Ill., respectively.

On Friday night, Mathews downed the Kansas City, Mo., metro winner, Lenzy's Bar, by a 6-0 score. Ralph Baker tossed a five-hitter for the local team. Roger Smith, Babe Champion and Dick Eckert started a pair of hits to the attack.

Polio Immunization Count to be Taken

Families in this area will be asked about the extent to which children and other family members have been immunized against polio and other communicable diseases during the current Population Survey to be conducted this month by the Bureau of the Census, according to Director Theodore F. Olson of the bureau's regional office in Chicago.

The health questions, sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service, will be asked in addition to regular monthly inquiries on employment asked by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Diseases to be covered by the questions, in addition to polio, include diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, and 8-day and German measles.

The information will be collected during the work week starting Sept. 20 from scientifically selected sample households in this area as well as other sample areas throughout the U. S.

Census Bureau interviewers will visit families in this area this month.

"This does not include the meetings that were held before the conciliation service was called to participate in the negotiations," he added.

Mayor Partney, in a statement issued after his conference with O'Keefe, said he was gravely concerned over failure to reach a settlement of the strike.

He said that vandalism that has occurred at the starch plant fortunately is an uncommon event in our community. No labor difficulties have occurred in Granite City in the last nine years."

The mayor said that "we realize that a lengthy strike, accompanied by violence, can create a poor impression of our city. Of equal importance is the necessity of avoiding the hardship created for the people, be they taxpayers, citizens or taxpayers. The situation has now reached the point where I, as mayor of Granite City, feel it necessary to point out certain facts, both to Union and management, in this strike."

Mayor Partney said that "in the main, the union has cooperated with the city administration and the federal mediation and conciliation services, although the union, in its negotiations, has not been without fault; for example, in its refusal to allow a representative of the two schools. He preceded her in death. A fellow teacher was Mrs. Joseph Robbers, 2419 Benton street, who was informed of the death. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Guy Daniels, and three brothers, including Dr. Montgomery of Shelbyville who she was visiting when she fell.

Mrs. Delia Wehman, 2821 Marshall avenue, has returned to her home from St. Elizabeth Hospital where she underwent major surgery the past week.

representative of the Granite City Ministerial Alliance to be present at the negotiations in an attempt to assist. It was at the suggestion of the Mayor that the alliance offered its services, both to the union and to the company.

Rebuffed Efforts

He added that the company "for the most part, has rebuffed our efforts to effect continuing negotiations. On two occasions, I personally, met with the negotiating committees of the union, company and the federal mediation and conciliation services. . . . When negotiations broke down, and we were informed that the federal mediators recommended that the negotiations be continued by a higher echelon of officials, both in the company and the union, we contacted both the president of the company and the International president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers to urge continued negotiations."

"Mr. Al Grospiron, International president of the union, informed me from the headquarters in Denver, Colo. that he would make every effort to see that his people continued to meet until the strike was settled. Mr. Erwin Miller, owner of the Union Starch and Refining Co., after considerable delay, referred me to Mr. Reed (T. R. Reed), the president of the company, who informed me that he would not send anyone at this time from the main office at Columbus, Ind., to assist in the negotiations."

The mayor said he would continue to urge "higher echelon" Union Starch officials to negotiate.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Maddox, 2028 Michigan avenue. Mr. Romer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Romer of Wheaton, Ill.

A buffet dinner was served to the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mikulas, Mrs. Susan Thompson and family, Mrs. Angie Gargac and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mikulas jr., Mr. and Mrs. Julius Horvath, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sackett and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Horvath jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gargac, all of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Horvath sr. and son of Troy, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McGhee and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Abbott and family of Collinsville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Horvath jr., Edwardsville, and Mrs. Kenneth Just and son of Mascoutah and the host and hostess.

Mr. Maddox gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white organza over tulle, styled on slim lines. Chantilly lace and clustered seed pearls were fashioned into the short sleeved bodice and down the front of the A-line skirt. A bouffant veil of illusion fell from a satin bow clustered with pearls and the bride carried a cascade of white "mums," croton leaves and white pom-poms.

Miss Susanne Brockus was maid of honor, serving with three bridesmaids, Miss Susan Myers, Miss Pat Kellogg and Miss Joan Maddox, a sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Lynn Matson, a cousin, junior bridesmaid. The bride maid carried a cascade of bronze "mums" and croton leaves.

A little flower girl, Mary Ann Romer, a sister of the bride, was dressed like the older girls.

Student Views Of Health Careers

(Last of a series)

(Although the need for trained personnel in allied health professions far outstrips the current supply, an increasing number of high school graduates in the area throughout the country are preparing to take their places in these professions. Why are these young people like? How do they view their training—and the jobs for which it will prepare them? These questions are contained in this final installment of "Careers at the Crossroads.")

While most college seniors spend their time during the last months of school binging for exams and looking for jobs, the physical therapy student spends three months "in the field" at selected government and private schools.

Raymond May of Wilmette, Ill., an earnest 23-year-old student at the Northwestern University School of Physical Therapy, finds this course radically different from the years he spent at Quincy College.

"My major was biology," he asserts. "During my sophomore year an advisor suggested physical therapy. The advisor applied to me completely. So far, the work is demanding but rewarding."

The "demand" portion of Raymond's work is constant effort expended to restore normal movements to patients through manual exercise, manual therapy and massage. Sometimes this necessitates training new students in the techniques of manual therapy. The patient may be injured one of the limbs, or the patient may be recovering from a simple fracture or may need extensive help to fight the results of stroke, crippling diseases and injuries.

"In addition to being in good physical and mental health, our students must be able to do hard work," asserts Dr. Elizabeth Wood, director of the program at Northwestern. At present, Northwestern's Department of Physical Therapy is the only program of its kind in Illinois. It offers a course for the student of the physical therapist, plus degrees and postgraduate degree programs.

He and other students enrolled in the program must spend the last 50 hours of credit at the Northwestern downtown campus. The first three years of study in a liberal arts college in accordance with a prerequisite program set up by Northwestern. Tuition is $1500 a year, and the work load so heavy that part-time work is deemed inadvisable, able.

Demand Far Exceeds Supply
For Raymond, the physical therapist's demands, but the rewards are great, too—like the satisfaction of helping handicapped persons to walk again and the opportunity and security that come from choosing a profession in which the demand far exceeds the current supply.

Most people seeing 22-year-old Joyce Behrens hurry down the hallways at the University of Illinois Medical Center, mistaking her for a nurse. Only a special arm insignia and the absence of white hose identify her as a medical technology student.

"Any resemblance between us and nurses ends with the uniform," Joyce explains. "Nurses work mostly with people; medical technologists work mostly with tubes."

It is her fondness for working with test tubes and other equipment in a laboratory setting that drew Joyce away from the traditional medical curriculum. "Nurses make courses in computer programming at the University of Illinois, where she was a fourth year student."

If Joyce had remained in computer systems, she currently could be making up to $8000 a year. As a medical technologist, her salary salary will be about $3200 to start.

"It's job satisfaction, not salary, that counts," she contends. Before beginning her career as a medical technologist, Joyce will spend one year of study—taught by masters—such as biochemistry, blood banking and microbiology. "Even the medical students get a few weeks of this," Joyce says. "We don't."

Unique Course
Under the direction of chief pathologist Dr. John Fuller, the new medical technology program in which Joyce and five other students are enrolled is unique in many respects.

"Most of our preparatory work is done in the classroom, not the laboratory," Joyce asserts. "We don't go out and do work until we are absolutely certain of our techniques."

"The immediate sacrifices of hard work to income, plus a tuition fee of $360 for the one-year course Joyce considers to be a small investment for the return. Once she receives her bachelor's degree in medical technology, she will be able to take her place in virtually any hospital or doctor's office in the country, performing vital life-sustaining operations used in the scientific detection of disease by laboratory methods.

Radiologic Technology

Unlike most professionals in the health field who choose their careers early, James Erwin didn't start studying radiologic technology until he was past thirty. Now—six years later—he is staff radiologic technologist at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines, Ill.

"My original field was electronics, but the town I came from did not have much diversified industry and work was scarce."

With a wife and a baby on the way, Erwin turned to a profession that offered professional status and security as well as good pay. His choice was radiologic technology.

Learning to "hit the books" again in the two-year course prescribed for radiologic technologists at Swedish American Hospital in Rockford was no easy task, but Erwin is glad he stuck it out.

Aid To Diagnosis
Now, physicians rely on his clear x-ray pictures to help diagnose broken bones and internal diseases or injuries.

While prohibited from interpreting the medical findings on the film—a duty reserved for the radiologist—Erwin is thoroughly trained in positioning a patient for an x-ray... developing his own film... and understanding medical terminology so that he can explain to patients and to physicians as well as report to them.

He is also trained in therapeutic radiologic techniques, such as deep x-ray and cobalt therapy for the treatment of cancer.

"Some patients are severely injured and acutely ill," Erwin says, "and there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing your work is helping them."

The importance of his work is not only medical but legal, he says, since the x-ray films are often submitted as evidence to determine extent of injury in an insurance claim.

While satisfied with his present position, Erwin hopes eventually to teach in an accredited hospital school of radiologic technology.

Suggests Hospital Jobs
"I only hope other people don't wait as long as I did before going into the health field," he says. "I suggest this, he suggests that high school students take part-time jobs in hospitals as volunteers or to look around and see what they like to do best."

Proof that the health professions are fair game for the fair sex is evidenced by just, pretty Marsha Bedford, a junior in the University of Illinois School of Pharmacy. A native of Marion, Ill., Marsha intends to get her master's degree in pharmacy and Ph.D. in pharmacy so that she can eventually teach.

"I guess I'm a professional student," she says, "because I'm a pharmacist studying students the rest of their lives."

Right now, there is a tremendous need for pharmacists in the field, according to Dean George Webster at the University of Illinois School of Pharmacy. The need is evidenced by the fact that starting salaries for pharmacists in Chicago are close to $10,000 and the field is "hot" in finding suitable positions.

For every 10 hospital pharmacist currently needed in Illinois, only nine are available, states a recent report of the Health Careers Council of Illinois.

Five-Year Study
The five-year college curriculum for a bachelor's degree in pharmacy makes the students eligible to become a registered pharmacist, charged with the responsibility of compounding prescriptions according to the physician's order. Advanced degrees are required for those wishing to go into pharmaceutical research, teaching and administration.

At the University of Illinois, the only pharmacy school in the state, tuition for resident students is reasonable—$300 a year. Some scholarships are offered, and 75% of the students commute to their homes to keep living expenses low. While four out of five pharmacy students at the University of Illinois are men, women enrolled are convinced that the field of pharmacy holds a place for them.

LaVonne Vincent, a senior in the pharmacy school, plans to go into hospital pharmacy work. "Hospital pharmacy was made for women," she says. "The hours are regular and the pay is good. A master's degree in this field is at a premium in Chicago. The work is stimulating and interesting; I wouldn't trade it for anything."

"Most of our preparatory work is done in the classroom, not the laboratory," Joyce asserts. "We don't go out and do work until we are absolutely certain of our techniques."

"The immediate sacrifices of hard work to income, plus a tuition fee of $360 for the one-year course Joyce considers to be a small investment for the return. Once she receives her bachelor's degree in medical technology, she will be able to take her place in virtually any hospital or doctor's office in the country, performing vital life-sustaining operations used in the scientific detection of disease by laboratory methods.

An Independent Study Of County Airport Proposal Is Essential

The Madison County Board of Supervisors acted hastily a month ago in approving a Chouteau township airport plan that had not been fully explained or studied. When it meets again tomorrow, we hope the board avoids equally hasty action on a proposal to create a county commission to develop the same site as a public airport.

The issue is sufficiently complex and important to justify authorizing an independent study of the feasibility or lack of feasibility by firm knowledgeable in this field.

Such a study could take into account existing services by the Bethalto, East St. Louis, St. Louis and other airports. It could analyze the effect on property assessments and give an objective appraisal of a county airport's advantages, disadvantages and probable cost to taxpayers, including potential volume of business.

Much is at stake in terms of the future development of Madison county. A competent independent study is a "must" if the county board is to act intelligently on the matter.

Lewis and Clark Park Expansion Advocates Ignore Destructive Effect On Job Growth

The American Automobile Association understandably is interested in development of scenic attractions to prompt motoring excursions, but it ought to check its facts before labeling the Lewis and Clark memorial park "the closest point to the original camp of the Lewis and Clark expedition."

The site actually is far from the place from where the famed explorers embarked on their trek to the west. This perhaps would not be a significant flaw if there would be no damage from the "maximum development" of the park favored by the AAA.

But the overly greedy park expansion plan would block needed harbor development at the northern end of the Mississippi River Canal, virtually destroying the otherwise bright prospects for attracting new industry and broadening Madison county job opportunities.

If the park area is in fact an "oasis of nature,"

Parent's Role In Child's Vision

(Last of three articles on major causes of blindness in the U.S.)

The parent's role in insuring good vision for a child cannot be stressed enough.

A child does not know how well he should see. A youngster may have blurred vision, or see double, or use only one eye, and not know it. Regular eye examinations in the preschool years are vital.

Eyes Change Each Year
A child's eye grows as he grows. He may have normal vision one year and need glasses the next. Regular eye examinations are a guarantee that undetected eye problems will not handicap him during studies or sports.

Children do not outgrow crossed eyes. If this condition is not treated, peripherally by the age of four, the sight of the crossed eyes may fail to develop fully, and the youngster will grow up with no useful vision in the eyes.

Reading and watching television will not harm young eyes if they are properly corrected. The youngster should read in good light, holding the book about 12 inches from his face. While viewing television, he should sit at least ten feet from the set at about the same level as the screen. The room should be illuminated sufficiently to prevent a sharp contrast between the bright screen and dark surroundings.

Defects such as crossed eyes or amblyopia can lead to permanent loss of vision in the affected eye if not detected and treated by the age of six.

Amblyopia, a condition in which one eye appears perfectly healthy yet actually has low or no vision, is a serious problem.

Mitchell's Old Fogies Hold 4th Chicken Dinner
The Old Fogies of Mitchell held their fourth annual chicken dinner and dumpling dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, 138 Douglas place.

Six of the 12 members were present. They are J. C. Hill, Joseph Troeckler, William Kurek, John Esten, Frank Hopf, and Roy Reeves. Mrs. Nora Stallings was a guest.

it is far from the only one in this region. Certainly there are many existing recreational sites in the Illinois Metropolitan Area and much effort has been devoted to developing a Horseshoe Lake park and other new facilities.

Surely some way can be found to commemorate the Lewis and Clark expedition without crushing Madison county's best hope for adequate economic growth in the coming years.

As pointed out by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, Greater Alton Association of Commerce and many others, any alteration in the existing park boundaries must not include land needed to provide river access for adjacent plant sites. A few acres lost at this key point could render thousands of other acres almost valueless, and permanently darken the economic future of Madison county families.

Driver Training Made Available To Venice School District Adults

The Venice school district reached a sound decision in expanding its driver education program to make such classrooms and behind-the-wheel instruction available to adults.

Little or no cost to taxpayers is anticipated, since a fee will be charged and equipment needed for the course already is available and in operating condition.

The state is gradually tightening its licensing restrictions in the direction of requiring all new drivers to obtain formal training. The traffic injury and death toll remains high, and this method of seeking a reduction undoubtedly will be pursued unless and until some other solution is found.

Ten Aldermen Have Voted To Hide Convention Expenses From Taxpayers

Ten Granite City aldermen were wrong in voting last week against proposed itemized expense allowances for their attendance at the 1965 meeting of the Illinois Municipal League in Peoria. The question is not "What do you think we are, a bunch of crooks?" This was the "outraged" reaction of Alderman Nunn, Bartoski, Rutledge, Bascom and the other council members had the temerity to submit an amendment to require specific expense reimbursement.

The issue is whether taxpayers are to pay actual, legitimate expenses encountered by their officials in representing the municipality on official business, or whether they must pay out $150 to each man and be refused any information about how it was spent.

It obviously costs money to travel to a convention, but such costs surely do not come out of taxpayers' pockets every year. Without an itemized report, taxpayers won't know whether their money is being properly spent; if it is not, then public funds are being misused.

Aldermen voting against itemized reimbursements were Nunn, Bartoski, Rutledge, Bascom, Boyd, Dallas, Moelken, Farnley, Poulos and Green.

Perhaps they did not fully understand the amendment that was being proposed, or the people that is involved. They have an obligation to taxpayers to review the subject and change their stand.

THE PASTOR SINGS

"For we are laborers together with God." 1 Cor. 3:9.

The carpenter's tools held a conference. Brother Hammer was in the chair.

They informed him that he must leave because he was too noisy. But he said, "If I am to be a carpenter's tool, Brother Gimlet must go, too. He is so insignificant that he makes every other tool look like a giant."

Little Brother Gimlet said, "All right, but Brother Screw must go also; you have to turn him around and around again and again to get him anywhere."

Brother Screw said, "If you will, I will go, but Brother Plane must leave also; all his work is to be the surface, and there is no depth to it."

To this the plane replied, "Well, Brother Rule also will have to go if I do, for he is always measuring folks as though he were the only one right."

What does he want the men to do at the bargaining table, go back defeated? What does he think the men are striking for? Why doesn't he ask why the men are striking for something at the bargaining table?

He knows what the men have against him. The biggest major cause of their strike is his. His pitiful statement didn't work; the whole town is laughing at him.

I suggest he go ahead and run the plant. There is nothing to keep the company from cutting his wages down to 50 cents, 30 cents or even less. Why, then, putting more than one man's share of work on his shoulders, and lengthening his working hours to 10, 12 or more a day.

These men are striking for fair labor and a decent living. If he would get out, the trouble would solve itself.

To the rest of the people of Granite City, I'd like to ask, "Where is the mayor? What kind of mayor has we got? Why hasn't he taken action toward the company and scabs and tried to help the strikers? He knows the law of the city. Is it because he has a son inside the plant?"

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

SEPT. 14, 1915

Trevor Lewis, star all-around athlete of Granite City high school and a member of the all-star basketball team of Illinois, has received official notice that he has been appointed to a cadetship at Annapolis, United States training college for officers of the United States Navy. The notice of appointment came this week.

The many friends of "Trev," as he is familiarly known, will welcome the fact that he has been successful in his endeavor. He has been desirous of securing appointment for several years, and it was his leading ambition. In this respect, he enlisted the assistance of several prominent local businessmen, who went to the front of him.

Appointments are made only upon the recommendation of congressmen, who can name two from their district each year. Lewis' name was before the officials recently and he finally received the appointment. He will take an entrance examination in December and, should he be successful in passing it, he will enter Annapolis in March.

Lewis graduated from high school last year with high honors and probably will have no difficulty in passing the entrance exam. He is a sprightly of ability, a great basketball player and a baseball player of merit. He is presently employed as a time keeper at American Steel Foundries.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met last night at the home of Mrs. J. H. Johnson, 231 Delmar avenue.

The following items were taken from the Granite City Press-Record:

Russell D. Johnson, assistant superintendent of the Granite City high school district, was the Optimist club speaker today in a series of programs to stimulate preparedness and educate the public as to the situation that confronts the United States.

Johnson is well posted on history and current affairs and his discussion was educational. He pointed out that the United States and other nations which took the lead a few years after the war in trying to bring about disarmament were, at the outbreak of the present conflict, at a disadvantage to those nations which did not enter the disarmament movement.

His discussion was a recital of political and history rather than of political considerations and situations.

13 Selected for Chamber Board

Names of 13 new directors of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce were announced today by President Carl E. Mathias. Election of nine board members took place late last week, and additional directors were appointed. A third of the 39-member board is named each year for three-year terms.

"The balloting was unusually heavy this year, and the race very close," Mathias commented. "This indicated two very wholesome things—an increased interest in Chamber activities and an excellent job on the part of the nominating committee."

Those chosen were as follows: Jon L. Dressel, Aro-Dressel Foods Corp.; A. H. Froelich, Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association; Nelson R. Hedger, Granite City Travelodge; William F. Hoelscher, Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities; Leo H. Kozan, Lueders & Robertson law firm; Paul H. Lichtenberger, First Granite City National Bank; Charles A. Meyer, Steele-Kunemann Agency; Carl A. Ranft, J. C. Ranft Bottling Co.; E. G. Schmitt, Illinois Power Co.; A. P. Steinhauer, American Steel Foundries; John Wagner, General Steel Industries; M. Freeman Wolfe, M. H. Wolfe & Co.; and Harry Wolf, National Auto Supply Co.

1966 MISS AMERICA, Deborah Irene Bryant of Overland Park, Kan., is besieged backstage by reporters and radio personnel immediately following her crowning as the nation's new first young lady of beauty. The slightly-tanned, brown-haired 19-year-old, whose measurements are 36-23-36, was born in Kansas City, Mo., and hopes for a career in medicine after her 12 month reign is completed.

RELAXING BRIEFLY on a hotel terrace after a lengthy stroll along the famed Atlantic City boardwalk, Miss Mary Luther and Miss Mary Blackburn, former Granite City high school teachers, were caught momentarily by surprise. Both arrived in Convention Hall a full 90 minutes before the start of the pageant's final production Saturday night. Miss Blackburn instructed Miss Illinois in speech and drama for three years at the local high school.

MORE ABOUT

of Iowa Hospital, was voted "Miss Congeniality."

The highly-prized title is bestowed by the contestants themselves on a girl who they believe to possess the greatest spirit of friendliness. Prior to the pageant, Miss Mastro had vowed to give half of her earnings should she be named Miss America to the Association for Heart Research.

Kathy's Main Concern

At 6 p.m. Saturday, Kathy Oros was worried. Not about walking once again down that "fabulous runway," to be seen by millions of television viewers and an audience that stretched into the upper reaches of vast Convention Hall. No—for this she had rehearsed long hours and prepared herself deliberately, as well as unknowingly, for a number of years.

Kathy was concerned, as she phrased it, "that I'll be a disappointment to all the kind people back home if I don't make the top ten semi-finalists."

Within a few minutes of Miss Illinois making this statement, she was to leave her beachside motel suite for one of the most exciting and important moments of her young life and her only thought were "how are the folks at home going to feel if I don't make it."

"For myself, I have enjoyed enough glory and honors," Kathy continued, "but how I would hate to disappoint the people who have shown such faith in me." Her remarks were not uttered in the sense of last minute jitters, nor with disenchantment of her own abilities. Miss Illinois was genuinely concerned with the possible disappointment for others, far more than herself.

She knew her chances of being selected in the top ten had grown slimmer, as six preliminary winners already had been chosen in the three initial contests. Although not a mandatory rule, in preceding years, most of the preliminary winners were included among the semi-finalists. This year, Miss Nevada was the only preliminary winner not listed in the top ten.

Kathy's Confidants

Kathy confided her feelings to her mother, Mrs. Paul Oros, and to Mrs. Darrell Crews, the former Miss Phyllis Stout, a 1961 Miss Granite City contestant. The latter assisted the state title-holder with last minute touches to her upswart coiffure before Kathy left for the official white convertible that was placed at her disposal in Atlantic City.

Back in the suite, at the same motel, where Mr. and Mrs. Oros, their younger daughter, Renee, and Miss Illinois' aunt, Mrs. Eunice Oros, were staying, several Granite City residents gathered for a final glimpse of Kathy before her big moment at Convention Hall.

All gathered on the balcony and gave her an encouraging cheer as she arrived back from a six-hour rehearsal stint, a little known phase of the pageant schedule which occupied the contestants' hours between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Crowded Rooms

The local group then retired inside the crowded two rooms for coffee, to mull over the happenings of the previous few days with late arrivals, to speculate and to admire the manner in which their candidate had conducted herself.

Traditions and rules, which have governed the activities and conduct of contestants since the reorganization of the Miss America Pageant in 1935, were established by the first hostess committee and pageant board of directors. Strictly enforced to the letter, a contestant is immediately excluded from further competition if she violates them intentionally.

No one is allowed to approach the contestants, whether family, friend or news reporters without an appointment or prior consent of her official Atlantic City hostess.

Contestants are not permitted to speak to any man, including male members of their own family, until they have been invited to do so at a time during the week-long affair is a contestant allowed to dine with a man, with or without a chaperone.

Other Restrictions

They are not allowed to smoke, enter a restaurant where liquor is served, nor may they attend any social function or make any public appearance other than regular pageant activities.

Kathy shared her official hostess, Mrs. Gilbert P. Deban of Linwood, N. J., with a lovely green-eyed blonde, Kippy Brinkman of Richland, Wash. Miss Washington was assigned to say with Miss Illinois at the Strand Motel.

Gorgeous bouquets, one four- or five-stemmed, numerous telegrams from well-wishers, filled the suite used by the lovely Granite City girl, who thoughtfully sent her mother a wire of carnation corsage which arrived by messenger late Saturday afternoon.

Called by many veteran pageant observers one of the more outstanding in the 44-year history of the event, the judges admitted that their task was a difficult one. The top ten semi-finalists were selected through a point scoring system during the three preliminary nights of competition, and then entered the final night of judging with the scoring started over again.

Points do not carry over from the preliminary judging.

A diverse panel of judges made the ultimate decision. Most renowned was famed motion picture star and Academy Award winner Joan Crawford, who also is a member of the board of directors of the Pepsi-Cola Co. and is an astute business woman.

One of the most tense moments for the five finalists involves the answering of questions put to them individually. However, the question period is conducted only to give judges an added means of assessing the young ladies. The quality of the

MOTHERS CLUB MEETS

AT HARRIS SCHOOL

The Madison Harris School Mothers club met Wednesday evening at Harris grade school with the president, Mrs. Evelyn Holt, presiding. Mrs. Lavene Harris and Mrs. Virginia Landwehrmer were on the welcoming committee for the month.

Individual answers is not scored.

An outstanding social event during the week-long festivities was a cocktail party and reception given Friday evening by the national soft drink firm for distinguished guests, former Miss Americas and state Jaycee committees.

Several local Jaycees and their wives were on hand for the glittering affair and were greeted by Miss Crawford and company officials. Sumptuous food in a truly regal setting, orchestra music and breath-taking evening poems made the occasion memorable for the Granite City guests.

Arrival Home

A contingent of about 100 loyal supporters of Miss Illinois greeted Kathy as she arrived at 8:30 p.m. yesterday at St. Louis airport. Looking radiant in a slim-fitted, gold-knit coat dress and brown derby, Kathy was met with a loud cheer and presented a bouquet of American Beauty roses and a toy pool dog as she stepped from the trans-continental jet.

Several local Jaycees were overwhelmed by the large group which greeted her and said "I expected a couple of people at the airport, but this is just unbelievable. I just love the Jaycees and truly appreciate all they have done."

tempt was made to pry open a storage door in the kitchen.

About 20 pounds of French fried potatoes were removed from a freezer some of which were taken. Also taken by the thieves were 40 pounds of hamburger.

At the school office, where the thieves again broke a door glass, the principal's office and that of the school secretary were ransacked. The combination was knocked from a wall vault and an effort made to pry it out of the wall.

Failing this the burglars chopped a 14 by 18-inch hole through the wall of an office closet to get into the vault. Only a pair of binoculars was missing, according to a preliminary check.

Two Churches Entered

Break-ins at two churches along Pontoon road — St. Elizabeth's in Granite City and the Pontoon Baptist Church in the county — were reported to authorities Sunday morning.

At St. Elizabeth's, where entrance was gained at the breezeway connecting the church and school, a collection box in the church was forced open and looted of an unknown amount of money and closets in the church were ransacked.

The thieves also forced doors to get into the school office and ransacked desks and cabinets. It was not determined if anything was taken. Rev. Lawrence Mattingly is to have an inventory prepared.

Rev. Gus Falter Jr. of the Pontoon Baptist told county authorities entrance was gained by prying a side door with a crowbar. Granite City police believe a

Madison School Units

To Fight Tax Case

Officials of school districts in Madison county have agreed to appeal the Madison county railroad tax assessment cases to the United States Supreme Court if a request for a hearing of the Illinois Supreme Court decision is denied. The tax cases involve approximately $2,000,000 in dispute tax funds based on assessed valuations placed on the railroads for 1957 through 1963.

The argument involves the ratio of assessment placed on the railroads. The Madison county circuit court ruled against the railroads which sought a refund, but the Illinois Supreme Court reversed the lower court. County officials since have filed for a reconsideration of the cases by the Illinois court.

General Steel Sells

Eddystone, Pa. Plant

General Steel Industries, Inc., announced the sale of its Eddystone, Pa. plant to Boeing Co. for a sale price of about $2 million dollars. The building, on a 112-acre site, contained more than 1,000,000 square feet of floor area.

The plant produced industrial castings until it was closed two years ago and its operations moved to the Granite City plant. The sale price was less than the book value and the difference will be charged to a special reserve for the relocation amounting to $8 million dollars, a company spokesman said.

The plant was used on the doors at St. Elizabeth's.

Rev. Falter was unable to determine if anything was taken. He said the study room was completely ransacked, and that books were scattered about the church.

Dram Shop Suit Settled Out of Court Thursday

A $20,000 dram shop suit filed for Charles Leroy Wise Jr. for use of his mother, Sylvia Simurda, against Otis Schelebo, doing business as the Diamond Inn, and George and Pauline Hendricks was settled out of court Thursday after a jury had been selected for trial in the Granite City division of circuit court.

In the suit filed June 25, Wise claimed he became intoxicated at the tavern on June 30, 1962 and was injured when he lost control of his car. He had supported his mother.

Nameoki Township Relief Up Slightly

A slight increase in relief was reported for Nameoki township during August at the office of Supervisor Harry Briggs.

During the month there were 35 cases with 102 persons and costs of $2206, compared to July totals of 31 families with 83 persons and costs of $2175. In August 1964 the township had 33 families with 91 persons on relief and the cost was $3720.

Relief costs during the fiscal year now total $18,178 compared to $22,135 for the same period in 1964.

Warrior Boosters To Meet Tuesday

The first meeting of the season for the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Y.M.C.A. It was announced by the president, Emerald Dawes.

Team prospects for the 1965 football season, compared to strategy to be carried out for the season, which starts Sept. 18, will be outlined by Coach Jim Morrison and his staff and Dick Yates, athletic director for the school district.

The first game will be Saturday afternoon at River-view Garden.

BABY KIMBERLY ANN DEUTSCHMAN, very sober about the whole affair, and Major Herbert Kesselring, commanding officer of the 593rd Engineer Group at tenant's bar on Lt. Ronald L. Deutschman's collar. Deutschman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Deutschman, 2234 East 24th street.

Saltich Re-Elected Head Of Columbus Home Group

Steve Saltich, 2972 Washington avenue, was re-elected as president of the Columbus Home Association, property holder for the Tri-City Council, 1098 of the Knights of Columbus, at the annual home meeting Thursday night.

Others elected were John Kazman, vice-president; Edward Lenzi sr., secretary; O. A. Reinhardt, treasurer; Albert Sanders, trustee for three years; and Harry Hadley, trustee for two years.

During the meeting Saltich reported on improvements to the K. of C. building and commended members who volunteered their services and labor. William Morris, chairman, presented the annual financial report.

Plans were made in the accompanying K. of C. meeting to hold a memorial commemorative service to honor late members on Nov. 21 with a Mass at St. Elizabeth's Church and a ceremony at the council home. It will be the first such service here since the 1940's, it was reported.

Registrations were taken for a tour of a St. Louis brewery for members and guests tomorrow. The group is to meet at the council home at 6:30 p.m.

Past grand knight pins were presented to Sanders and James Worthen by Kazman, current grand knight. A motion was passed to send an encouraging telegram to Miss Kathy Oros at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City.

Brief remarks were presented by Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, chaplain, on the current role of the laity in the church and in combating indecent literature in the Quad-Cities. A luncheon was served to about 80 members.

Explosive Story For GC Optimists

The perilous escapades of the 50th Ordnance Detachment at the Granite City Army Depot were outlined for members of the Granite City Optimist Club at Thursday's luncheon meeting in the Y.M.C.A.

Speaking to the 27 Optimists and their guest, James Witte-vrongel, was Lt. Allen K. Rosson, commander of the detachment.

He pointed out that children are often the victims—killed or maimed—because of live war souvenirs or army weapons carried home by veterans. One of the prime duties of the detachment is to disarm these souvenirs.

Lt. Rosson was accompanied to the meeting by Lt. Col. Robert Armstrong, deputy commander at the depot, and they were introduced by Herman Mueller, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Edward Stone, club president, and it was announced that this week's speaker will be Ross Randolph, head of the state department of public safety and the former warden at Menard Penitentiary.

GC Seeks Bids To Sell 12 Lots In Lincoln Place

The city is again calling for bids to sell 12 lots in the old quonset hut housing area for veterans in Lincoln Place, with the filing deadline set for 5 p.m. Oct. 25 at the office of the comptroller in the city hall.

All of the lots have been cleared with the exception of about two in which the police department firing range now stands. Only a few of the lots have been sold to persons whose homes will be taken for the Riverfront Roadway right-of-way.

The last bid call in spring resulted in confusion when aldermen called for an opening of proposals received prior to the deadline date and the sale of a corner lot was approved. Later additional bids were received by developers—and all were rejected as being too low.

Hubbards, Radio Aerial Charles Veach, 2448 Madison avenue, reported at 6 p.m. Thursday that four hubcaps were stolen off his 1955 auto and the radio aerial was broken while the car was parked in his driveway during the night.

Advise School Units To Follow Bus Code

Ray Page, Illinois superintendent of public instruction, has advised school administrators throughout the state to comply with the regulations established for use of school buses.

The advice was issued as the result of a recent accident involving a school bus which was being operated illegally in transporting children to a summer swimming program. A child was killed. Supt. Page has placed the school district on a tentative non-recognition status.

Page said that failure to comply with the Illinois School Code on the operation of school buses will result in loss of recognition and state aid. School buses may be used only for transportation of pupils to and from school.

School Budget, Tax Levy to be Adopted Tonight

Adoption of the 1965-66 Granite City school district budget is scheduled during a board meeting following a public hearing at 7:30 tonight. New tax levies also are to be approved.

The proposed budget totals $10,222,201, including a special appropriation of $2,330,000 for construction and $7,902,201 for the five regular funds — education, building, bonds and interest, transportation and retirement.

Agenda items include the Grigsby junior high school site, Parkway grade school construction, the Granite City high school cafeteria addition, replacement of the high school gymnasium floor, enrollment, a ticket and concession stand, a letter from a teacher, renewal of a construction fund bond, the school calendar, methods of heating new Parkway school and the fire safety code.

Pay for ticket takers and the faculty members handling extracurricular duties is to be discussed, as well as procedures for future negotiations.

Also listed are hiring in the teaching, custodial, cafeteria and secretarial fields, resignations, policies on custodial hiring and physical examinations, bid awards, proposed trips to meetings, a divisional state school board meeting in Granite City Sept. 28, psychological services, equipment purchases, binding of board minutes, a camera for the journalism class, a park district request, school area traffic and monthly bills.

Water Too Hot, Owner Sued for $15,000

John Boker, father of Herbert Todd Boker, and the father individually, have filed suit for a total of $15,000 against Kenneth Carver of Granite City, in Madison county circuit court.

The complaint alleges that the son, aged two last Jan. 28, was burned severely and permanently in an apartment at 2124 Delmar avenue, in which the father was a tenant and Carver was the landlord. The complaint charges that Carver was in control of an automatic hot water heater and was negligent in failing to regulate the thermostat on the heater after being warned repeatedly of unreasonably high temperatures in the water system. The father seeks $10,000 for the boy and $5,000 for himself to help pay doctor and hospital bills and for the loss of future services from his son.

Geo. Strasser, 59, Former Resident, Dies

George Strasser, 59, of 3421 Yost avenue, Alton, a former Granite Cityan, died about 5:30 p.m. Friday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. He had entered Wood River Township Hospital last Tuesday after suffering a stroke. He had been ill three weeks.

Mr. Strasser, proprietor of the Photo-Art Shop in Wood River, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Strasser sr. of Granite City.

Two police cars responded about 8:45 p.m. Friday to parents' plea for help in a search for a small boy lost in the vicinity of the 2400 block of Delta avenue.

The patrolmen were on the scene only a few minutes before it was discovered the boy was hiding in the family kitchen.

Driver Pleads Innocent To Accident Charges

Pleadings of not guilty to three charges filed following reports of two accidents involving damage to four vehicles were entered by a motorist who was arrested Friday afternoon by Granite City police.

The charges of driving while intoxicated, striking unattended vehicles and operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license were placed against Lawrence McCarthy, 52, of 903 East 24th street. Upon pleading not guilty, he was released on bonds totaling $3250.

Police said the first accident occurred in the 2100 block of Washington avenue where McCarthy's auto damaged the front of a parked pickup truck belonging to Thomas Veath, 2118 Washington avenue, and the left side of a parked auto belonging to Lonnie Garrett of 2123 Washington avenue.

Later, it was reported that McCarthy's auto struck the rear of a parked auto on East 28th street at Nameki road, belonging to Walter Hall, 1712 Spring avenue, and also hit a mailbox there.

A car driven by Harry R. Cavaness, 2612 Kirkpatrick Homes, backed into the right front fender of a car driven by Edward A. Knobbe, 2 Frontenac lane, Friday at 30th and Iowa streets. Cavaness said he had turned onto 30th street and another car was backing up toward him.

We hope our
which you are reading for the first time in today's Press-Record,
will give you a "lift." It was done
for you ---

Here is an exacting comparison of the old and the "new"

This is a sample of the 8 point Regal type that the Press-Record formerly used for body copy (news stories). It was set on a 9 point slug (base for the line of type). Also, the Press-Record used 4 point column rules, to divide the columns of type on each page. To improve the readability of the paper and, as is the custom of the Press-Record, to continually improve our product, the new type (a sample of which is set next to this copy block) was selected after consultation with one of the world's leading manufacturers of type faces and typesetting equipment. This copy block contains one hundred and fourteen words.

This is a sample of the new 9 point InterType Imperial type now being used by the Press-Record for all body copy. This new type is more legible, as proven by exhaustive laboratory tests. To further increase "readability" of the printed pages in the Press-Record, we are no longer using column rules to separate the columns of type. Instead, we are now using 6 points of white space between our columns. It is part of a planned program to keep the Press-Record as modern as possible. This block of copy is written for comparison of the new type with the old type face. This copy contains one hundred and fourteen words.

Madison Woman Shoots Husband, Woman, Self

Mrs. Betty Ann Taylor, 27, of 700 McCambridge avenue, Madison, shot herself, her estranged husband and another woman at 12:50 a.m. Sunday in East St. Louis, police there reported.

In fair condition at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, are Mrs. Taylor and her husband, Andrew J. Taylor, 30, both with wounds in the stomach, and Mrs. Frances Jean Green, 42, who was shot in the ankle.

Police said they have a hold order on Mrs. Taylor, who underwent surgery, and that charges will be filed after her release from the hospital. Police said Mrs. Taylor admitted the shooting but that Mrs. Green must have been struck by a stray bullet fired from the .38 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Green's husband, William, said Mrs. Taylor appeared in his back yard and asked Taylor, a bus driver, to drive him home. Taylor, who resides with the Greens, refused to do so, Green told police.

Green said he and his wife started to enter the house when they heard a shot and saw Taylor fall. Green rushed into the house to call police and fired two more shots, then discovered his wife had been hit. Taylor and his wife are separated. Green is an announcer for a St. Louis radio station.

Son Born to Former Granite Citizens

Mr. and Mrs. William Stethem, 414 Old Sugar Creek road, Fenton, Mo., are announcing the birth of a son Thursday at St. Joseph Hospital in Kirkwood. The baby weighed eight pounds, seven ounces and has been named James Gilbert.

Mrs. Stethem is the former Maude Kulenkamp, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kulenkamp sr., 2215 Delmar avenue. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Stethem of Edison avenue.

Rushed to Hospital

Mrs. Anna Pomeroy, 2012 East 27th street, who collapsed Saturday afternoon in the 900 block of Niedringhaus avenue, was taken by ambulance to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis. A daughter, Danna Wickham, told police her mother was suffering from a kidney ailment and had recently been released from the hospital.

Three Speeding Arrests

Three motorists were arrested on charges of speeding on Madison avenue. Arrested early Saturday at 27th street was Ivan Foster, 421 Redwood drive, and arrested Friday were Glenn Nitzsche, Evansville, at 26th street, and Warren Taylor, 4210 Kirkpatrick Homes, at Nameoki road.
